BUILDING LEADERSHIP

Building leadership begins with unity in diversity. Understanding and respecting each other's beliefs and culture contributes to a positive global society.

In service to society, students partner with local organizations and agencies to perform a minimum of fifty hours of community service, giving them practical work experience.

By serving others the students develop themselves.

Follow Mr. Rushdy on Instagram: @karimcampbellrushdy. Check out his podcast Stratford Vibe Exchange.

“A good recording starts with a top-of-the-line mic, soundproof booth, and an experienced engineer, but the most important part is the song itself. We focus on writing original songs with excellent melodies, memorable rhythms, and inspiring lyrics.”

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Before & After School Programs

An important part of our school structure is the development of the whole being. Students are involved in at least two extracurricular activities designed to develop social and healthy relationship skills, promote physical activity and creativity. Core activities include a variety of sports such as basketball, volleyball, badminton, soccer, and ping pong, while activities range from dance, music, and fine arts to other categories developed uniquely by student interests each semester. Beyond the borders of the school yard students participate in community projects and are members of the local YMCA.

MORAL LEADERSHIP

At NCA, students learn to incorporate unique moral leadership capabilities in both academic studies and residential life to enrich their personal and professional lives.

NCA Alumni, Dr. Lita Cameron MD, MSc went on to study medicine at McMaster University and earned her Masters in Global Health Science at the University of Oxford.

"My time at NCA was incredibly transformative. I thrived in an environment that was simultaneously academically challenging and nurturing. I often wish I could go back and be in Grade 12 again!"

NCA Alumni, Marjan Alison served as a Judicial Clerk in Supreme Court Justice and is an Attorney at Mayer Brown LLP in Chicago, one of the world's leading law firms.

ROBOTICS TEAM

NCA Students prepare all year for this “real-world engineering” experience. “FIRST ROBOTICS CANADA competition combines excitement of sport with the rigors of science.”

“Under strict rules, limited resources and time limits, teams are challenged to raise funds, design a team brand, hone teamwork skills and build and program robots.” (FIRST Robotics Canada, 2023).

Team 8765 began as a student initiative. The first team made history in our first competition by being the 2nd rookie team ever to be Alliance Captains (leading two other experienced teams to victory in the semi-finals).

In the next competition that day, NCA placed 2nd in the finals against world-class teams and were awarded Highest Rookie Seed out of all the new teams in First Robotics Competition Canada 2022.

JUNIOR YOUTH EMPOWERMENT PROGRAM

Making a Difference

Junior youth (ages 11 - 15) possess a great desire to make sense of the world around them. A junior youth group provides them with a safe space to explore ideas and develop a strong identity with a group of friends. Student volunteers serve these groups as “animators” to assist the youth in developing their capacities and serving others. Together, they study stories about the lives of young people in different parts of the world.

The Program:

- develops the junior youth's power of thought and expression
- helps them develop the language needed to articulate how they want to see the world change
- helps develop math skills and a sense of finances
- helps them recognize the moral values and spiritual principles that might apply in situations they encounter

ESL/ SECOND LANGUAGE TRAINING

NCA prepares students to meet the challenges of academic studies in English. It offers an unforgettable learning experience where students complete their ESL program, while taking classes (Physical Education, Visual Arts, Drama & Photography) similar to their English-speaking peers. This ensures our international students meet the high standards set for all students.

This comprehensive academic program is designed to help build the skills students need to succeed in all their future endeavours.
